The Conservation Alliance of St. Lucie County, Inc., was established in 1972 by local citizens who were becoming aware of the growing threat to our natural resources and environment. The Conservation Alliance of St. Lucie County is a nonprofit, non-partisan, non-political organization with these primary objectives: | To promote the "wise use and not abuse of our land and resources." | To promote planning to provide controls for the quality and quantity of growth, that will not adversely affect the present St. Lucie County "way of life." | To evaluate environmental and economic aspects of future growth. | To specifically avoid the development of the beach areas into the "concrete jungles" now present farther south. | To protect the wildlife of land and water.
